

Parris Island Child Development Center

The Parris Island Child Development Center would like to recognize all its staff for receiving accreditation from the National Association for the Education of Young Children (NAEYC). NAEYC is a professional membership organization that works to promote high-quality early learning for all young children, birth through age 8, by connecting early childhood practice, policy, and research. The staff worked extremely hard and countless hours to achieve this recognition. After an extensive application process, skilled and reliable NAEYC program assessors visited our program to determine that it is meeting NAEYC standards. Following accreditation, all programs are subject to random, unannounced visits by assessors to ensure that the programs continue to meet these standards. Families rely on NAEYC Accreditation to ensure the quality of education and care for a program is being provided for young children. Accredited programs have met NAEYC's 10 standards for high-quality early childhood education. The Parris Island Child Development Center has demonstrated that we provide a safe and healthy environment for children, have teachers who are well-trained, have access to excellent teaching materials, and work with a curriculum that is appropriately challenging and developmentally sound. We are proud to be accredited by NAEYC for the next 5 years.
